Market Recognition.

"I have worked with the Fox Rodney team for many years, and they have helped to secure some of our most successful lateral partner hires. They are extremely well connected in the construction disputes market, and I know that when we instruct Fox Rodney, they deliver."

Adrian Bell, Co-Head of ICE Disputes, Co-Managing Director for Asia and Middle East – CMS

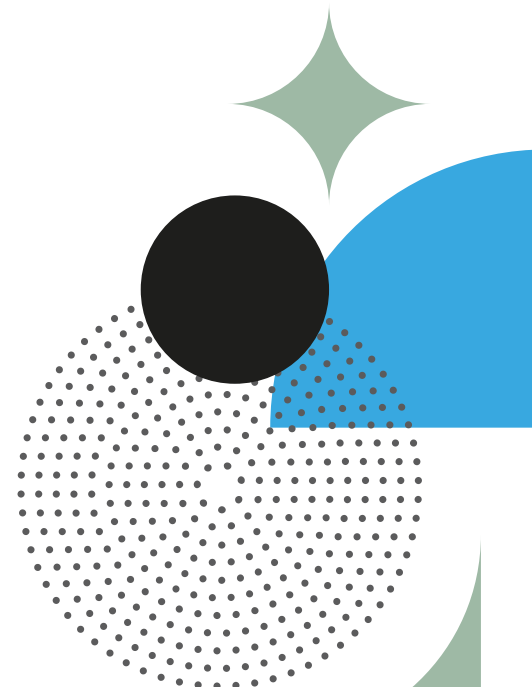

"We have worked with the Fox Rodney team on several key mandates in the UK and internationally. Not only do I thoroughly enjoy working with them but their market insight, the research they provide and their understanding of the intricacies of complex senior recruitment processes is first class."

Mark Rowley, Partner in Charge of London, Dubai and Riyadh – Baker Botts

"Fox Rodney are by far the best recruiters I have worked with since I started my legal career in 2017, and have in fact stopped speaking with other recruiters given the trust I have in them and their abilities/experience. I have really appreciated their honesty and transparency throughout the process which I know is (unfortunately) not so common in the market these days and is testament to their character. I will be recommending them to my network."
